

Poem

Peace

By Wesley Correa Carmena ty

It is hard to wipe away tears for they soon re-appear...

We look for comfort and answers, and try to understand facts, which lead us
to Ask...

How do we hear the Answers?...

we have just to trust a void will be filled with love...

And the heart and mind will find... that the Pain will be overtaken by
peace...

Knowing our lost love is now resting in it...

That is our Creator's gift... or at least is what I wish for the people that I love and Miss...
